

Code of Ethics QUSIT

Introduction

Central to our mission, is moral excellence in all what we do at the work place. To live and promote this determination , this code of ethics is promulgated which sets forth the general principles to which we pledge and expect every member of the university ,every part time, every full time employee, faculty members ,adjunct faculty ,visiting faculty ,administrative staff , boards ,to adhere to.

Objectives

- To inculcate culture of compliance towards general standard of social ethics among all the stakeholders of the university.
- To live up to the core values of the university.
- To respect and obey the bylaws of the university.
- To implement the disciplinary and efficiency statutes of the university.
- To groom and develop ethical and responsible leadership.
- To ensure all academic and research work conducted, conform to all ethical and professional standards.
- To promote gender respect with defined limits of togetherness.

Elements of Code of Ethics:

Following are key elements of our code of ethics to be adhering to, by all of us.

Respect:

We respect each other irrespective of our racial background, we demonstrate to ensure that this is reflected in our thinking, in our discussions, in our teaching, avoiding discrimination of others based on their racial, religious background, and country of origin.

We also recognize the capability and ability of others which inspiring learning from them, we don't react arrogantly to people who don't match our thoughts, beliefs and priorities.

Dialogue:

We welcome diverse point of view, we listen to others to understand the broad picture, we think, and we make agreements for bilateral benefits.

Honor:

We recognize people who do right things on the right way for the right cause. High contributors, achievers are rewarded, which believe, promotes the sense of belonging and togetherness.

Integrity:

We do right things on the right time on the right way. This builds trust among us as a responsible organization and among our all stakeholders. We believe that anything which don't conform integrity standards, leads to trust deficit.

Result Orientation:

Being an organization, our existence without favorable results, is meaningless but we believe, results are not important, at any cost, we value results which don't breach the limits of ethical standards.

Risk Taking:

We analyze things in our ethical guidelines but we are not timid, we demonstrate courage and candor to take risks for innovations in all what we do. We appreciate individuals, teams, departments, programs, faculty for their risks directed towards moderation.

Don't Give Up:

We put our best efforts continuously till achievement of results but do differentiate between what is to be done and what not to be.